This year, fans of Former President and Chairman of Marvel Comics Stan Lee are coming together to celebrate the life and career of the Marvel legend in a big way. Tuesday, July 18, which is just two days preceding the start of this year's San Diego Comic Con, Lee will immortalize his hand and footprints in cement outside TCL Chinese Theatre IMAX®.

2017 marks three significant dates in Lee's life: his 95th Birthday, his 70th wedding anniversary, and his 78th year since joining Timely Comics. At the time, he started off filling inkwells as his first job with the company. However, Timely Comics would, with his help, eventually become the well-known successful company people know today as Marvel Comics.

The "Ultimate Gift"

To honor Lee, Legion M is bringing in his fans for a party and the "ultimate gift," according to a statement on the Legion M website. The event will take place at 11 a.m., followed by an after party. Because studios have usually held events at this venue in the past, this will be the first time ever that fans have hosted a ceremony at TCL. Fans can find out how to participate in the celebration and attend the event by going online to Legion M.
